| Beschreibung / BesonderheitenFeuchtgebüsch-Feuchtwald-Komplex in einer Senke ca. 800 m südlich der Ortschaft Streu. Den größten Teil im Nordosten des Biotops auf nassem, längere Zeit überstauten Torf nimmt ein dichtes Wasserfeder-Grauweiden-Gebüsch ein. Diesen Bereich durchzieht ein weitgehend verlandeter, am Aufnahmetag weitgehend trocken gefallener Graben, an dem sich in einer Gehölzlücke im Norden kleinflächig noch ein Sumpfschilf-Ried befindet. Die umgebende Ackernutzung reicht bis an die Böschungsoberkante. Den südwestlichen Bereich des Biotops auf nassem bis feuchten, zeitweise überstautem Torf, Antorf und Lehm nimmt ein Erlen-Eschen-Sumpfwald ein, der den östlichen Teil eines kleineren Eschen-Ahorn-Laubmischwaldes darstellt. Der Bestand besteht vor allem aus jüngeren Eschen, südlich treten Erlen mittleren Alters hinzu. Die zentralen, nassen Flächen u.a. mit Sumpf-Segge, Kriechendem Hahnenfuß, Gelber Schwertlilie und Bittersüßem Nachtschatten im Unterwuchs, die erhöhten Randbereiche im Übergang zum umgebenden Wald vor allem mit Rasen-Schmiele und Bach-Neißenwurz. |   |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                           |   |   |                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                          |                                                                                          |   |           |   |                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                            |                          |  |  |                                                                                          |           |   |   |  |                                                                                                                         |  |  |  |           |   |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |  |  |  |           |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |  |  |  |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |
