| Beschreibung / BesonderheitenDas Gebiet liegt 400 m südlich des Schlosses Vietgest und umfaßt den weniger stark entwässerten Teil eines Niedermoors. Westlich verlaufen Gräben am Gebiet entlang. Sie stellen z. T. die Grenze dar oder sind durch Ruderalsäume vom beschriebenen Biotopkomplex getrennt. Die Fläche wird als Rinderweide genutzt. Nur im mittleren Ostteil ist ein kleiner Bereich ausgezäunt und liegt brach. Hier befindet sich ein sehr feuchtes bis nasses Uferseggen-Ried in das einige Weidenbüsche eingestreut sind. Bei einem Teil der Brache scheint es sich um einen flachen Torfstich zu handeln. Das Uferseggen-Ried setzt sich aber in dem genutzten Ostteil fort. Der Standort hier ist sehr feucht bis feucht. Feucht ist auch der SW der Fläche. Hier hat sich die Waldsimsen-Honiggras-Wiese etabliert. Durch einen höheren Einstau der Gräben sollte der fortschreitenden Moordegradierung entgegengewirkt werden, wobei die derzeitige Nutzung weiter möglich bleiben sollte. |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                |  |                                      |  |   |  |  |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |  |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
