| Beschreibung / BesonderheitenDer abwechslungsreiche Feuchtvegetationskomplex ist Teil einer ausgedehnten Niederung. Sehr feuchte bis nasse, quellige Lehme bilden mit schlammigem Substrat eine Quellkuppe im Norden des Biotops und ebene Flächen im Süden. Das Biotop ist Teil eines seit langem aufgelassenen Grünlandes. Es hat sich bereits ein junger Erlenwaldkomplex etabliert. Der größte Teil des Biotops wird von einem Sumpfseggen-Erlenbruchwald eingenommen. Vereinzelt tritt auch die Brunnenkresse oder die Rasenschmiele in den Vordergrund. Im Norden befindet sich eine heterogene Lichtung, die im östlichen Teil von einer Sumpfseggen-Schilf-Quellwiese besiedelt ist. Ein Band aus einem Kriechstraußgras-Flutrasen trennt sie von einem Sumpfseggen-Schilf-Quellröhricht im Westen der Lichtung. Im Süden der Lichtung liegen degradierte Brennnessel-Hochstaudenfluren und ein Sumpf-Reitgrasried. Das Gebiet wird durch Gräben entwässert. Die Degradierungen dadurch sind jedoch zur Zeit vernachlässigbar.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |   |   |                                               |                  |                                  |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |   |                                                                                                                                            |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |   |                                                |                                                           |                                                                   |                                                     |                                                                 |                                           |                                                                                                                                                     |                                               |                                                                        |                                                       |                                                                        |                                                         |                                                             |                                                                 |                                                                   |  |
