| Beschreibung / BesonderheitenIn einer vermoorten Senke im Buchenwald hat sich im Zentrum ein junger Birkenmoorwald auf ehemals oligotrophem Substrat etabliert. Die Bodenflora wird von Torfmoosen und Scheidigem Wollgras beherrscht. Daneben ist Strauß-Gilbweiderich regelmäßig vertreten. Das Moor leidet infolge langer Trockenperioden an Wassermangel. Die Ränder der Senke liegen tiefer und sind durch Torfstecherei geprägt. Teilweise ist das Substrat hier besser mit Wasser versorgt. Hier findet sich Erlenbruchwald mit Walzen-Seggen oder selten auch Sumpf-Segge in der Krautschicht. Im Norden ist Wasserfeder zahlreich vertreten. Kleinfächig findet sich Grauweidengebüsch. Zwischen der Vegetation des Randes und der des Zentrums stockt auf mesotrophem Substrat ein Torfmoos-Birken-Erlenbruchwald. Hier kommen neben der Walzen-Segge Torfmoose, Strauß-Gilbweiderich und vereinzelt Grau-Segge vor. |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |   |                                                             |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |                  |   |   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |                                                                                                                          |  |   |   |   |   |
