| Beschreibung / BesonderheitenDieses Biotop befindet sich westlich des Seegrabens ca. 2 km nördlich von Rossow. Es handelt sich um eine Sumpfschilf-Zweizeilenseggen-Feuchtwiese, die am Rande in ein Kriechhahnenfuß-Rohrgras-Grasland übergeht. Der degradierte Niedermoorort, der den Boden bildet, ist wechselfeucht und eutroph. Diese Feuchtwiese zeichnet sich durch ihre Größe und mehrere kleine Vorkommen von Inula britannica aus. Sie ist von Frischgrünland und Gräben umgeben und durch die Entwässerung gefährdet. |   |                  |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |   |   |                                   |                                                                    |   |   |                    |                                                                                                                            |                                        |                          |                |                                                                                                                                          |  |   |                |                                                                                                                                  |   |   |                                                                                                                                          |  |  |                                                                                 |   |                                                                                                                                  |   |   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |  |  |  |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |   |                   |  |  |  |
